PART C – KINGSPAN DATA SUBJECT RIGHTS PROCEDURE

1. Rights which all individuals have regarding their personal information

1.1 Individuals whose personal information are processed by Kingspan (including personal information of customers, contacts, employees and others) have certain data protection rights, which they may exercise by making a request to Kingspan (a “Data Rights Request”). These data subject rights are the right to request (each is described in more detail from section 9 of this procedure):

- Access to your personal data
- Erasure of your personal data (this right is also referred to as the 'right to be forgotten')
- Processing of your personal data ceases
- Rectification of your personal data
- Restriction of your personal data
- Portability of your personal data
- Not to be subject to automated decision making
- Not to be sent direct marketing

1.2 The procedures described in this Part C of the Kingspan data protection describes how Kingspan, as a data controller (i.e. the entity determining the purpose for which and manner in which the data is processed), will respond to any Data Protection Rights Requests.

2. Responsibility to respond to a Data Rights Request

2.1 The controller of an individual’s personal information is primarily responsible for responding to a Data Rights Request and for helping you, the individual concerned to exercise your rights under applicable data protection laws. For example, where a customer makes a Data Rights Request to Kingspan, Kingspan is the controller for the personal information held and processed about the customer because Kingspan determines the purpose for which the data is collected and means by which it is processed.

	Customer Data Protection Policy			GDPR P 001

2.2 Where Kingspan processes that individual's personal information as a processor on behalf of a customer who is the controller (rather than for its own purposes), Kingspan must inform the relevant customer promptly and provide it with reasonable assistance to help the individual to exercise his or her rights in accordance with the customer's duties under applicable data protection laws.

3. Personal information which Kingspan has made available to third parties

3.1 If Kingspan shares personal information with third parties, it is Kingspan's responsibility to inform those third parties of any request by an individual to rectify, erase or restrict their personal information unless it would involve disproportionate effort to do so or it is impossible. For example, Kingspan must notify other members of the Kingspan group, sub-processors and other third parties to whom the personal information has been disclosed so that they can also update their records accordingly.

3.2 If requested, Kingspan must also provide details of third parties to which the individual's personal information has been disclosed.

4. Where to send Data Rights Requests and questions

4.1 If you wish to make a Data Rights Request regarding your personal information, this request should be made to the Data Protection Team on info@kingspaninsulation.co.uk

5. Verification process

5.1 The Data Protection Team will make an initial assessment of the request to assess whether it has been received by Kingspan as the controller or as a processor and also to verify the request has been validly made (which means we may need to request identification).

	Date: 15 Feb 2018	Issue No: 1	Page: 9 of 15	Site: UK

5.2 If it is determined that a customer or other third party is the controller in relation to the relevant personal information and Kingspan is their processor, the customer or other third party will be notified as soon as possible and Kingspan will assist the controller with complying with the Data Rights Request (in accordance with any contract terms which may be in place with the controller).

5.3 If determined that Kingspan is the controller of the personal information that is the subject of the request, you will be contacted in writing to confirm receipt of the Data Rights Request and seek confirmation of identity (if not already validated).

5.4 If Kingspan is not exempt under applicable data protection laws from fulfilling the Data Rights Request, then Kingspan will request any further information needed to action the individual's request. Once Kingspan has all the information it needs to action the Data Rights Request, Kingspan will respond to the request in accordance with sections 9 onwards of this Data Rights Procedure.

6. Exemption from requirement to respond to a Data Rights Request

6.1 Kingspan is only permitted to decline to act on a request if the request is excessive and/or manifestly unfounded (for example because of repetitive requests having been made). In which case, Kingspan must be able to demonstrate the request is excessive and/or manifestly unfounded.

6.2 In some cases, specific additional exemptions may apply. Where specific exemptions relating to particular Data Subject Rights exist, these are explained below.

6.3 If Kingspan is exempt from the requirement of fulfilling the Data Rights Request, then Kingspan will notify the individual if it intends to decline the Data Rights Request and explain that an exemption applies.

7. Timeframe for acting on Data Rights Requests

7.1 Data Subject Requests must be responded to without undue delay and in no case later than one month of receipt of the request unless this is not possible because the request is particularly complex. In which case, Kingspan will be entitled to extend the response period by up to two further months. Kingspan must give you notice within one month of receipt of the request of its intention to respond within this extended time period. The notice must explain the reasons for the delay.

8. Charging for Data Rights Requests

8.1 Kingspan is not permitted to charge for acting on a Data Rights Request unless Kingspan is exempt from the obligation to act on the request (see above) but is prepared to act on the request anyway. In which case a reasonable fee may be charged taking into account the administrative costs of proofing the information or communication or taking the action requested.

9. Requests for access to personal information

The right of access: This is a right for an individual to obtain confirmation whether a controller processes personal information about them and, if so, to be provided with details of that personal information and access to it along with confirmation of certain other information.

Information to be provided in response to a request

9.1 You are entitled to request a copy of your personal information from Kingspan. Where you make such a request, Kingspan must confirm whether it holds and is processing personal information about you and if so provide that personal information to you in intelligible form.

9.2 The individual making the request should also be provided with the following information:

- A description of the personal information and categories of personal information concerned
- The envisaged period for which the personal information will be stored
- The purposes for which they are being held and processed
- The recipients or classes of recipients to whom the information is, or may be, disclosed by the controller
- Confirmation of the individual's right to request rectification or erasure of his or her personal information or to restrict or object to its processing

	Date: 15 Feb 2018	Issue No: 1	Page: 11 of 15	Site: UK

- Confirmation of the individual’s right to lodge a complaint with a competent data protection authority
- Details about the source of the personal information if it was not collected from the individual
- Details about whether the personal information is subject to automated decision-making (including profiling)
- Where personal information is transferred from the European Economic Area to a country outside of the European Economic Area, the appropriate safeguards that Kingspan has put in place relating to such transfers in accordance with European data protection laws.

Format of requests

9.3 An access request does not have to be official or mention data protection law to qualify as a valid request.

9.4 An access request does not need to be made in writing and can be made orally but it is helpful if it is made in writing (for record keeping purposes). If made in writing it is also helpful if you provide the email address and confirm whether the information can be sent to you by email (or other means by which you prefer to receive the information). Requests made electronically (e.g. by email) must be responded to electronically (in a commonly used format) unless you stipulate otherwise. You may ask for information to be provided orally instead.

Exemptions

9.5 Kingspan is not permitted to refuse to comply with an access request unless it can demonstrate that it is not in the position to identify the individual who is making the request or Kingspan is exempt from its obligations to comply (see above at section 6.2 regarding exemptions).

10. Requests to rectify personal information

The right to rectification: This is a right for an individual to obtain rectification without undue delay of inaccurate personal data a controller may process about him or her.

	Customer Data Protection Policy			GDPR P 001
	Date: 15 Feb 2018	Issue No: 1	Page: 12 of 15	Site: UK

Rectification by Kingspan

- 10.1 If Kingspan holds inaccurate or incomplete information about you as an individual, you are entitled to request that the information is rectified.

Rectification by third parties

- 10.2 If Kingspan rectifies your information further to such a request, Kingspan must also notify third parties. See section 3.1 above.

Supplementary statements to complete information

- 10.3 If a request to rectify information involves ensuring it is complete, you may provide a supplementary statement for Kingspan to hold to complete the personal information held about you.

11. Requests to erase personal information ("right to be forgotten") and right to object to processing of personal information

The right to erasure: This is a right for an individual to require a controller to erase personal information about them on certain grounds – for example, where the personal information is no longer necessary to fulfil the purposes for which it was collected.

Circumstances in which right to erasure applies

- 11.1 You may request that Kingspan erases your personal information in the following circumstances:
- The personal information is no longer necessary for the purpose for which it was collected or otherwise processed
 - The personal information was unlawfully processed by Kingspan
 - If the processing was on the basis of consent from you and you withdraw your consent (and no other legitimate grounds for processing the information exists)
 - You object to the processing (see below) and no overriding legitimate grounds exist for processing the information

	Date: 15 Feb 2018	Issue No: 1	Page: 13 of 15	Site: UK

- The personal information needs to be erased to comply with Kingspan's legal obligations
- The personal information was collected in relation to the offer of information society services (i.e. in connection with services offered on the Kingspan website)

Erasure of personal information by third parties

- 11.2 If Kingspan erases your information further to such a request, Kingspan must also notify third parties. See section 3.1 above.
- 11.3 If Kingspan has made the personal information public, and is obliged to erase the personal information pursuant to a Data Rights Request, it must take reasonable steps, including technical measures (taking account of available technology and the cost of implementation), to inform controllers which are processing the personal information that you the individual have requested the erasure by such controllers of any links to, or copy or replication of, the personal information.

Exemptions

- 11.4 In addition to the general exemption referred to in section 6.2, Kingspan is exempt from the obligation to erase personal information where the processing of the information is necessary for:
- Compliance with Kingspan's legal obligations
 - Establishing, exercising or defending legal claims
 - Scientific, historical or statistical purposes and erasure of the personal information would make this processing impossible or seriously impair it
 - Public interest reasons as follows:- performance of a task carried out in the public interest, exercise of official authority vested in Kingspan, for public health reasons or archiving in the public interest (these exemptions are unlikely to apply to Kingspan)
 - Exercising the right of freedom of expression and information (this is unlikely to apply to Kingspan)

12. Right to object to processing

	Customer Data Protection Policy			GDPR P 001
	Date: 15 Feb 2018	Issue No: 1	Page: 14 of 15	Site: UK

The right to object: This is a right for an individual to object, on grounds relating to his or her particular situation, to a controller's processing of personal data about him or her, if the processing is on the grounds that it is for the legitimate interests of the controller.

Circumstances in which you can object to processing

- 12.1 If Kingspan is relying on the grounds that the processing is in Kingspan's legitimate interests to process personal information, you may object to that processing.
- 12.2 You can also object to the processing if the processing is to perform a task in the public interest or to exercise an official authority vested in the controller. This is, however, unlikely to apply to Kingspan.

Exemptions

- 12.3 In addition to the general exemption referred to in section 6.2, Kingspan is exempt from the obligation to cease processing the personal information further to an objection if:
 - Kingspan can demonstrate it has compelling legitimate grounds for processing the information which override the interests, rights and freedoms of the individual
 - The processing is to establish, exercise or defend a legal claim
 - The processing is for scientific, historical or statistical purposes carried out in the public interest (this exemption is unlikely to apply to Kingspan)

13. Right to object to direct marketing

The right to object to direct marketing: Individuals have the right to object to direct marketing, including profiling relating to direct marketing.

- 13.1 Kingspan must stop using personal information for direct marketing if it receives such a request. Contact the Data Protection Team on info@kingspaninsulation.co.uk for more information on our obligations relating to direct marketing.

14. Right to restriction

	Date: 15 Feb 2018	Issue No: 1	Page: 15 of 15	Site: UK

The right to restriction: This is a right for an individual to require a controller to restrict processing of personal information about them on certain grounds. An example of this would be a customer or client that no longer wants to be contacted with Marketing information but is happy for their data to remain in the CRM system.

14.1 Kingspan must restrict its processing methods if it receives a viable request. Contact the Data Protection Team on info@kingspaninsulation.co.uk.

15. Right to data portability

The right to data portability: This is a right for an individual to receive personal information concerning him or her from a controller in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and to transmit that information to another controller, if the processing is based on consent of the individual and if the processing is carried out by automated means.

16. Right not to be subject to automated decision making (including profiling)

The right not to be subject to automated decision making: This is a right to object to an automated decision made about an individual (i.e. without a human involved) which has a legal or other similar effect on the individual. Individuals can ask for human intervention in the process.
