

Environmental Product Declaration

Insulated Panels with QuadCore™ Technology

What is an EPD[®]?

A third party verified, internationally recognised disclosure of a product's environmental impact based on a life cycle assessment.

Goal of EPD[®]?

Transparency. Knowing what's in the product you choose and its environmental impact.

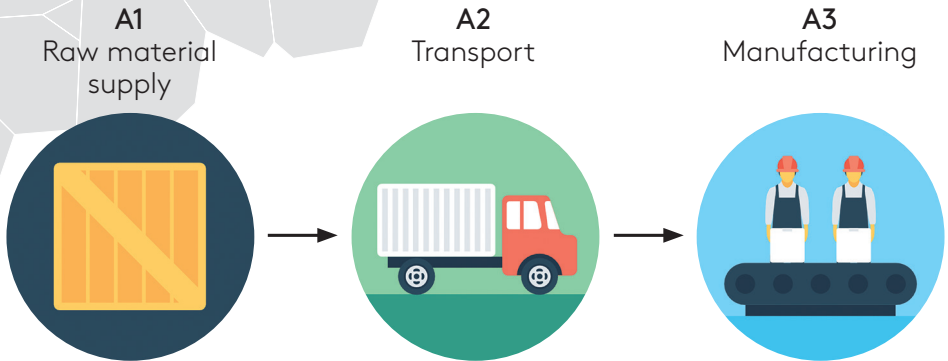

The International EPD[®] System

The International EPD[®] System is a global programme for environmental declarations operating in accordance with ISO 14025 and EN 15804.

All officially registered declarations are publicly available and free to download on www.environdec.com

Cradle to gate

Our EPD® covers the product stage information modules A1 - A3 (raw material supply, transport, manufacturing of products).

Our EPD® indicates that raw materials are the dominant impact across the first part of the life cycle, therefore we are consciously working with our suppliers to improve this.

The results for the whole product range can be downloaded on www.environdec.com